The Liquor Traffic bills were made the special order for the evening.

Adjourned to 3 p. m.

Assembly, 3 P. M.—House in committee of the whole, Mr. Richardson in chair, took up Banking Bill. An amendment proposed by the friends of the R. R. project was printed and laid on table of members.

Mr. Burtin moved to substitute it for the amendment before proposed. It is to take R. B. Bonds to the amount of one half of the notes issued on Roads completed 30 miles, well built, not exceeding half the cost per mile and not exceeding $8000 per mile, that said bonds to be the first lien on the road and depositors to make up depreciation in value. A long discussion ensued. Mr. Shaffer occupied most of the P. M. in opposition to the project—after which the committee rose and reported progress and house adjourned to 7:30 P. M.

Arrival of the Steamship

EL DORADO.

Two Weeks later from California.

$1,500,000 in Specie.

Wreck of the Steamer Warren! 42 Lives Lost!!

New York, March 15.

The steamer "El Dorado" from California, on date to February 18, and $1,500,000 in gold, and 130 passengers, arrived at 5:30 P. M.

The most important intelligence by this arrival, 230 lives of the steamer "General Warren" and forty two lives, at the mouth of Columbia River, Oregon.

141 persons at Panama, holding tickets by the line, were waiting to be transported to the steamer "El Dorado" for the return passage to New York. These persons complain bitterly, and look upon the whole proceedings as a grand swindle.

Mr. Lovin, U. S. Consul, denies being in any way connected with this line.

The Panama Railroad is now open to a point 40 rods above Chagres.

The steamer, however, will all land at Bay Hay—thus avoiding the danger of landing in small boats at Chagres.

The steamer "General Warren" is at the time of her disaster, was on her way from Astoria to San Francisco.

On the 31st, after passing the Bar, she became unmanageable in consequence of the insufficient power of her engine and the roughness of the sea.

The steamer "El Dorado" had her great jury, parting her hull, and before assistance could be procured by her boat's crew, (who were with great difficulty in getting to the steamer), all the vestige of her had been swept away, and all the boat perished, including Capt. Thompson.

The event caused much gloom. She had on board a cargo of produce, valued at $60,000. She was owned by Messrs. Garrison and Felt of Portland.

No eastern names are mentioned among the survivors.

The steamer "El Dorado" was wrecked at the entrance of the San Francisco Bay, and the public generally will find, and after the 16th instant, a full stock of CONGRESSIONAL.

Land Bills Going Through with a Rush.

Washington, March 18.

Mr. Shadle, from the Committee on Conference, reported the bill, and the bill passed.

The Chairman decided that the bill was still with the House, and therefore could not be voted upon.

The Iowa Rail Road was taken up and passed.

Missouri land bill taken up and passed.

Minnesota land bill taken up and passed.

Illinoian bill engrossed. It passed for the 2d time, 200 miles, the other from St. Louis, 220 miles in length.

Alternative sections of land 6 miles on each side of the route.

Illinoian bill to take up the Arkansas bill. Agreed to. Amended and engrossed.

The bill authorizing Wisconsin to sell lands and improving the Fox and Wisconsin River, was taken up. Ordered engrossed. The bill providing $4000 for a marine hospital at Portland, Maine, was ordered engrossed.

Accident to Mrs. Moore.

Boston, March 19.

About 6 o'clock last evening as Mrs. Moore, the actress, was returning to the city from an excursion, her horse became frightened and frantically sprang up into the air. She was taken into the Wm. H. H. H. Hospital, where she was treated, and for some time it was feared her injuries were fatal. Subsequently she recovered and required to be conveyed to the home of her sister—Mrs. Moore. Upon examination it was found that two or three ribs were broken, but it is thought she will recover.

Albany, N. Y., March 20.

This forenoon an alternative amendment was granted by Judge Pratt, calling on Mr. Newell, Auditor of Canal Department, to pay out of the proposed drafts, or show cause on Monday why a permanent mandamus should not be issued to compel payment.

New York, March 21.

Mr. Charles Butler, who lost the Clay Medal, was returning to the city from an excursion, his horse became frightened and frantically sprang up into the air. She was taken into the Wm. H. H. H. Hospital, where she was treated, and for some time it was feared her injuries were fatal. Subsequently she recovered and required to be conveyed to the home of her sister—Mrs. Moore.
